Radio Station To Be Dedicated May 31

Formal dedication of KWAR-FM, Wartburg's radio station, will take place in the Little Theater on Thursday, May 31, at 8:15 p.m., as recently announced by H. C. Engelbrecht, public relations director here.

Outside speaker for the occasion will be W. I. Griffith of Iowa State college at Ames. Mr. Griffith is a former Waverly superintendent of schools and is now associate professor of radio at Iowa State college. In addition, he is president of the Iowa Council for Better Education and head of the Association of Educational Broadcasters.

According to Raymond C. Wilderman, station adviser, the program will be sent over the airwaves and includes short addresses by Wartburg college president Dr. C. H. Becker, and Mayor Willard Osincup of Waverly.

Making their last appearance before departing on a six-week tour will be the Choraliares the quartet composed of Jim Sexter, Dale Becker, Bill Roleder and Jack Volkmann. A skit prepared by Ernie Maulwurf, junior and Herman Diers, sophomore, will also be presented.

Dedication ceremonies will conclude Alumni day activities and follow the alumni reception. After the dedication ceremony a tour of KWAR-FM studios and a light lunch will follow.

Baccalaureate Sermon By President Becker Set For Next Sunday

Baccalaureate services for the class of 1951 will be held in St. Paul's church on Sunday, May 27, at 4 p.m., with Dr. C. H. Becker, Wartburg college president delivering the sermon.

Liturgists at the service, which is officially to open graduation week, will be Dr. William Schmidt the pastor of St. Paul's, Dr. Gerhard Cttersberg, professor of history here, and the Rev. Lawrence Stumme, Muscatine.

Castle Singers directed by Dr. E. A. Hovdesven, will sing an anthem at the services, and a reception for seniors is to be held at the president's home following the event.

Activities scheduled for Alumni day, Thursday, May 31, include a golf tournament in the afternoon, a reception for graduates at 6 p.m. and the annual alumni business meeting following the reception.

Dedication of Wartburg's new FM radio station, KWAR, will be held on the evening of Alumni day at 8:15 in the Knights gymnasium. W. I. Griffith, Ames, president of the Iowa Council of Better Education and associate professor of radio at Iowa State college, will be the main speaker.

Awards Day Set For May 24

Student Awards day is scheduled to be observed at convocation on May 24, as released by the Rev. August Baetke, chairman of the Wartburg scholarship committee.

Earnest Oppermann, dean of students, will present all of the college awards. Students scheduled to receive awards will sit in a special reserved section.

Vets Asked To Apply For Grad Work Now

"G. I.'s who have any eligibility left after graduating this year, and who are intending to use this eligibility for seminary or graduate training, must make application and be accepted by the seminary or graduate school before the last day of school here at Wartburg."

This was announced by Mrs. W. G. Fruehling, Wartburg veterans' counselor, Friday, upon receipt of a late memorandum from the Veterans' Administration offices. The VA has announced that G. I.'s who plan to continue training beyond their present objective must make application for a supplemental certificate while still enrolled.

For details and assistance, veterans are asked to contact Mrs. Fruehling at the bookstore immediately. This includes all who will complete their work during the summer session.

Program To Change.

Program this year will be considerably changed from that of previous years. President C. H. Becker will deliver an address, and the college band and Choralaires, campus quartet, will supply music.

College citations will include athletic, music, dramatics, speech and publications awards, as well as the student service award, the Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities certificates and the class scholarships.

Scholarships Given.

Class scholarships will amount to one-half of the second semester tuition. The Wartburg Women's club scholarship will also be given to a junior girl and will total all but the tuition of the second semester of next year.

Recognition will also be tendered two athletes through the Tobe and Hertel awards, both of which are trophies, and through the Waverly Chamber of Commerce, cash prizes to students of social studies.

AAUW Makes Award.

To the senior woman of highest scholastic rank will go a special gift presented by the American Association of University Women.

Awards for the men's championship intramurals teams and for the Women's Athletic Association letter-winners will also be given.

Prexy Crop Sprouts As 6 Organizations Elect New Chiefs

Yearly crop of new presidents is beginning to sprout in full force with six new additions to the list of chief executives being revealed this week.

Elected head of Wartburg Players at the club's annual picnic was Ed Roleder, junior. He received the traditional dunking in the Cedar river.

Maulwurf Heads APO

Heading the "elite club" of Knight dramatics, Alpha Psi Omega, national drama fret, will be Ernie Maulwurf, junior. He was elected some weeks ago. This year, Maulwurf served as Players president during the first semester.

Groskreutz WAF Chief.

World Affairs Forum, campus discussion group, elected Jean Groskreutz, junior, as president for next year. Groskreutz was editor of the Fortress this year and has been a member of WAF since his freshman year.

Head Pepster for the year 1951-52 will be Dick Phillips, sophomore, who became president of Pep club for the coming year at the club's last meeting.

Knight scientists elected Ray DeWeerth junior, science club chief for next year. DeWeerth will also be TRUMPET business manager. He was advertising manager of the paper this year.

Campus Face-lifting Closes Two Blocks

Summer campus improvements got into full swing this week with the tearing up of the two blocks of street between Annex 1 and the White House. The torn-up area will soon be filled in with dirt and will be seeded.

According to Dr. C. H. Becker, president of the college, workers hope to finish the entire process before commencement, June 1.

In order to make up for the lost parking spaces on those two streets, the block between the White House and LeSourd annex was widened and filled in with crushed rock, allowing for parallel parking.

Editorial Acclaim Goes To Groskreutz

Notice that his editorial on alcoholism has been selected for final judging by the Intercollegiate Association For the Study of Alcohol Problem was received this week by Don Groskreutz, junior.

His editorial was among those sent to the annual contest by the students of Miss Margaret Wolff's reporting class. Last year, Don Groskreutz, then a sophomore, won $20 as third prize in the contest.

Groskreutz has, in addition, been awarded a full scholarship covering tuition, room and board at the Intercollegiate School of Alcohol Studies, to be held at Rutgers college, New Haven, June 17-22. Groskreutz stated that he plans to attend the meeting.

May 25 New Deadline For Test Applications

Once more the deadline for receipt of applications for the Selective Service College Qualification tests has been extended. The new deadline is set at May 25, according to news released by Selective Service headquarters this week.

This ruling applies to the July 12 testing date for students whose religious beliefs prevent their taking of the test on Sunday, as well as to the June 16 and June 30 testings. Applications for the May 26 administration may no longer be processed.

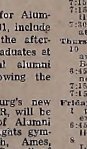
Students who wish to take the tests must secure, fill out and mail applications at once.

Scout Head To Visit

Hugh Rader, Boy Scout executive from Waterloo, will be here Wednesday to interview men who might be interested in professional scouting, according to H. C. Engelbrecht, public relations director.

Mr. Rader will be in the conference room in Luther hall from 4 to 8 p.m. on Wednesday. Any one interested in professional scouting should sign up on the student bulletin board in Luther hall by Tuesday.

Mrs. Siefkes Funeral Here Yesterday



Mrs. Grace Siefkes

Funeral services for Mrs. Grace Siefkes, secretary to the dean of students here until she was taken ill about four weeks ago, were held yesterday afternoon at the Cleveland funeral home and at St. Paul's Lutheran church.

Mrs. Siefkes, who had been in failing health for the past year, died Wednesday morning, a few days after being readmitted to Mercy hospital here. She had been released from the hospital but four days earlier, apparently on the road to recovery.

Coming to Wartburg in the fall of 1948, Mrs. Siefkes served as secretary in both the registrar's office and the public relations office before becoming secretary to Dean of Students Earnest Oppermann. Before 1948, she was a case worker for several years with the Iowa Lutheran Welfare society, Decorah.

Mrs. Siefkes is survived by her daughter, Katherine, a former Wartburg student and wife of Lloyd Spier, a last year's graduate.

Voice, Piano Pupils To Perform Wed.

Voice students of Roy Glahn and piano pupils of Mrs. Flora Landis will appear in a miscellaneous recital Wednesday, May 23, at 7:30 p.m. in the Little Theater.

Mr. Glahn's vocal pedagogy class will present "Memories of Mozart" in commemoration of the 160th anniversary of Mozart's death. Singing a duet from Act II of his "Marriage of Figaro" will be Lois Burmeister and Lois Stoltz, juniors. Stoltz will also sing "De Vinci non Tardar," solo from the same act.

Freshmen Mary Warnke and Paul Hanselmann will sing a duet, "Serenade" from the first act of "Don Giovanni" by Mozart. Hanselmann and Jim Sexter are to sing a duet from the first act of Mozart's "Cossi Fan Tutte." Solo recitative from the same act will be sung by Lois Burmeister.

Concluding the vocal portion of the program, a mixed quartet composed of Marcella Petersen, freshman; Jim Pritschel, senior; Sexter, and Burmeister will sing "Lacrymosa" from Mozart's "Requiem."

Included in the piano portion of the program will be Everett Hoffman, freshman, playing "Debussy's "En Bateau" and "Serenade for a Doll"; Eunice Langholz, sophomore "Rhapsody No. 2" by Brahms; Mary Maxford, freshman, Lecuona's "Gitanerias"; Elden Reisetter, freshman, Chopin "Nocturne No. 6," and Marjorie Gross, sophomore, "Barcarolle" by Korngold, and "The Sea" by Palmgren.

Rev. Shalkhauser Resigns Post Here

The Rev. C. G. Shalkhauser, of the public relations office here, announced this week that he has submitted his resignation, effective at the end of this semester. He plans to leave Waverly, together with his wife and children, early this summer.

Mr. Shalkhauser has been working in the public relations department here since 1938. He was manager for both the choir and the band for a number of years, as well as serving as director of admissions.

He gave a desire for change as the reason for his leaving and announced that his future plans are as yet indefinite.

'Bumpy Of Bear Hollow'— A Fable Told By An Editor

I was sitting at my typewriter the other day, trying to find a fit subject for a newsletter of an editorial. Ideas just wouldn't come. Nothing to run to the ground. No gripes. So I sat and smoked and thought and thought and thought.

All of a sudden, I felt a tug on my left pant leg. When I looked down, I saw a little brown-furred, wall-eyed creature that looked suspiciously like a cub bear. I made sure his folks weren't around, and asked him where he came from.

"Guess that pester you got lying on your desk. The one you didn't look at."

Sure enough! I looked at my desk where, among other papers, I had a folder advertising some kind of a new magazine with a crazy sort of title, ONE. I think it was called. And there was a big hole in the front cover, and I remembered that there had been a picture of a bear cub where that hole was now.

"That's right," the cub was talking again. "My name's Bumpy of Bear Hollow. I'm a magazine salesman."

I don't like salesmen, especially not magazine salesmen, but I took a liking to the little critter. So I picked him up and set him on top of my typewriter.

"Well, what can I do for you, Bumpy?"

"I wanna tell you about the magazine I'm selling. O. K.?"

I said, "O.K.," and he started to talk.

"You wanna know about that title, don't cha? Well, it means exactly what it says. ONE magazine for three Lutheran synods. My friend Omar, who's editor of ONE, even showed me some Scripture I could quote.

And he pulled out his 25-lb. chain-referenced and cross-indexed King James version and pointed to the passage in Galatians where Paul says, 'We are all ONE in Christ Jesus.'

"Paul was talking about faith," Bumpy continued. "And that's what ONE is. Omar called it an adventure in faith. There's a big word for her—circulation. And Omar sent me out to get people to believe in themselves. Some told me I was crazy. They said Lutherans unity—again one of them big words—was a dream of impractical fools. I think they said, 'O.K.' I said, 'O.K.' Ain't it fun to be crazy and believe in people though?"

I was getting to like Bumpy by now, so I asked him what he wanted me to do.

"Why, all you've got to do is to help me get everybody at Wartburg a subscription to ONE," he said. "Then he organized his high-pressure sales-manship once and started in. "Buy ONE, folks! Only $2.0 year, folks! Get it now! This is your chance!"

"Well, Bumpy, I'll try. It's a tall order. I don't know how I'll go about it, but I promise I'll try."

"Shake, partner." Bumpy drawled, and then he quick up and kissed me on the cheek. Affectionate little critter, I thought and blushed. When I looked again, he was gone.

Well, I still don't know how to sell everybody at Wartburg a subscription to ONE. I wish I had some ideas. I'll take some shrewd connivings. You got any ideas? If you do, jeannie know, will ya? I'd sure appreciate it. You get any ideas? If you do, jeannie know, will ya? I'd sure hate to see Bumpy go back disappointed from his adventure in faith.

POLITICAL PAGEANT

By Wayne Stumme

We Must Succeed!

Throughout the United States all ears are attentive to the claims and counter-claims of the great debate taking place in Washington. A calmer mood prevails as men realize the seriousness of their controversy. Others have listened to General MacArthur's able defense of his position, and many have been convinced that in his proposals lies the road to victory. Others pondering the opposing words of Marshall as he speaks out in vindication of the administration's policy, have wondered if this country is prepared to act so boldly.

However much their opinions may differ, American citizens are united in believing that this is no time for men who seek political advantage. The nation has no use for those who would fan the flames of national indignation high only to find themselves powerless to control it. In these days of national peril our leaders must set an example of calm and courageous intelligence. If they are to construct a better American foreign policy they will have to recognize the mistakes of the past along with the present and the goals of the future. For this reason the present controversy is important.

Yet, in the clash of facts and opinions which we are now witnessing, a still more vital truth exists. That truth is that our nation is and remains a democracy, for to whom are all these disputes in this debate over our foreign policy appealing? To none other than the people of the United States. This is not merely a political gesture, a meaningless formality. Every one of the protagonists—from general to politician—realizes that what he says or does is useless unless it is supported by an active public interest.

Therefore, we have an actual part in shaping our own destiny. By seeking our approval for their plans, leaders place a heavy responsibility upon us. If we respond to the demands of this duty, we will no longer attack in an irresponsible manner those who happen to disagree with us. Our obligation is now to hear other views and to determine in a sane and objective manner whether they have merit for this situation. With this responsibility clearly in mind, the citizens of America will be able to work out a consistent and farsighted foreign policy.

We have no choice for the decision in this matter has been thrust upon us. Failing to act wisely, we shall betray the ideal and the institution of representative government. This may be the last opportunity we will have to demonstrate to the world that a free people are fit to determine their future. We must succeed!

Legendary Benefactor Is Remembered As Sidewalk Builder Who Spared Tree

By Ruth Ottersberg

In the 99-year history of Wartburg the college has accumulated a long list of unselfish benefactors. Today the college which these men and women helped to build is undergoing a face-lifting which will render it almost unrecognizable to those who knew it five, twenty, or even fifty years ago. Yet, in spite of change, their contributions helped to build the school to what it has become today.

Wartburg's rich uncle at the turn of the century was Friedrich Schack, a kindly old gentlemen with a big heart. He was once a familiar figure on campus, but now he is remembered chiefly as the legendary character so fond of trees that he paid for the sidewalks in front of Wartburg hall on condition that it be built around the tree which is standing by the fish pond.

Born in Germany, Mr. Schack came to America as a lad. Beginning at the bottom of the business, he became a wealthy New York merchant—in real estate, silks and laces. He traveled a great deal, both to Europe to buy silks and through western United States.

At middle life, when his health began to fail, Mr. Schack retired to Eldorado, a tiny northeast Iowa village nestled in scenic countryside. Here he lived as an invalid, living in a manor house while tenant farmers worked his land.

Dr. G. J. Neumann, who grew up in Eldorado, remarked, "I remember him quite well. When I was a youngster, about ten years old, I used to carry mail to his house twice a day. The postmaster locked the mail in a little satchel to which both he and Mrs. Schack had keys. I got a pick up trip."

While living in Eldorado Mr. Schack became a prominent lay member of the then Iowa synod of the Lutheran church, holding the office of treasurer for years. He was elected to the Board of Regents of Wartburg college, became interested in the school and eventually moved to Waverly. Here he passed the rest of his life in the old Engelbrecht house, which until las summer stood across the street from Wartburg hall.

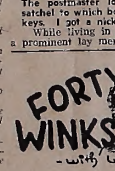
His contributions to Wartburg were many. He donated the two blocks of land on which Luther hall is built and the land where the athletic field was formally located. His money financed the present home Ec house and North hall as well as contributing to Old Main, Wartburg hall, Grossmann hall and the Little Theater were built during his time.

Mr. Schack was always interested in newfangled inventions. An avid amateur photographer who developed and tinted his own photos, he took pictures of everyone who visited him and kept albums of each shot. He also had a phonograph—with a horn—and a collection of records.

He took pleasure in pleasing folks. Miss Ella Engelbrecht, who was a next door neighbor when he lived in Waverly, recalled, "He was a rather lonely old man. He used to take a party of neighborhood children to Chautauqua presentations in Waterloo. Since he was somewhat deaf, he liked to sit in the front row, but if the program didn't suit him, he did not hesitate to walk out."

He liked to walk downtown, but it was a long stretch for an old gentleman. So a friend carried a folding chair, and they would stop and rest along the way.

Mr. Schack lived a rich, full life for 92 years. When he died he was no longer wealthy, although at one time he was reputed to be a millionaire. He had enjoyed his wealth. With his contributions to Wartburg college he established a living memorial.



A plagiarist is an intellectual variety of horse thief; he steals words and ideas from other people. Horse thieves get strung up from the nearest tree. . . I don't feel so good! Which is all a build-up for the following:

I read in "Bugs" Baer's column a line which I shall distort to read thusly to wit. "Old cabbages never die. . . they just smell that way!"

* * *

At first I thought I'd give this to Greenies for his so-called column on musical edification. Dear Dope, but on second thoughts guess I'll use it myself. It was on one of these platters lampooning Mexican musicians, and "twas done with an affected accent. Quoted Pancho Sanchez, how old are you?" To which Sanchez replied, "I am twainty-saving years old, Pedro. I would av been twainty-nine but I was sick for two years!"

* * *

So they said to me, 'Twenty lashes will be sufficient.'

* * *

Would you believe it . . . this torture is left to our self-town readers! Rev. Herold Adix of Waterloo (we used to heckle each other in Farmersburg) is the one to be the fitting and proper to extol the glories and grandeur of the "Little Switzerland of America," the area of extreme northeast Iowa, along the Mississippi river. The rolling countryside, the beautiful hills and dales, the lovely green fields. . . those wonderful towns and cities, full of crisp green money. . . that's real country for you, folks!

* * *

If you other folks, past residents of Wartburg, like where you are and wish it did, for publicity, write in to me. After all, we can't give Brother Adix all the spotlight here.

* * *

IT GIVES ME A CHUCKLE DEPARTMENT—At least one of the local lassies from here on the hill has a penchant for the companions of those big, handsome males from Waverly high. . . that's all right, I should say. . . I've always felt there should be better understanding between the two educational institutions.

* * *

Just to show you she's no dope, Joanne Schmidt informs us that Carl's auto has pistons and spark plugs and gaskets and a manifold and everything. Can't say she's not mechanically minded!

From The Wolff Pack

RUMOR HAS IT that the Forress staff lighted its picnic bonfire last Sunday with old copies of the TRUMPET. A case of fanning the flames of the old feud!

* * *

CALL IT COINCIDENCE, but Charlie See recently threatened to blow up the baseball diamond. Raise a crop of beans and sell them to the cafeteria, if the team didn't win. They won TWO games.

* * *

CUTTING CAMPUS isn't nearly such a life and death matter to you as it is to the grass.

* * *

WHAT NEXT???
Had rain yesterday—
Got sunshine now.
Gives a blizzard tomorrow!
Who knows what next

* * *

How about some sleet—
Wind and hail, maybe?
Or a thermometer spin—
He knows what next!

* * *

Should cloudy up clear—
We'll have a warm frost."
Why not? This is Iowa!
Who cares what next"?

—P. C. M.

* * *

THERE AREN'T many "yes men" left around the college—nearly everyone answers in the affirmative slang "yah"!

* * *

IN PHILOSOPHY class, one student stated that one of the more aesthetic sights on campus was the squirrels. Sounds a little nuts to me.

* * *

And now to my fellow columnist, Hank I appreciate your having mentioned my name in everyone of your columns. Incidentally, I checked when I was home this past week. . . the wallets are growing fine but the money didn't germinate.

12 Trackmen In Finals At Loras Today; Axmen Cop Third In Divisional Meet

By Rudy Kolberg

Knight cindermen will conclude their season's competition today when they perform in the Iowa conference meet at Loras college, Dubuque. In the northern division meet held on the home track last Saturday the Knights qualified 12 men for the final conference affair.

Axmen making today's trip include John DeYoung, entered in the 100-, 220- and 440-yard runs; Bob Rodewald, 880-yard run; Marv Rothfusz, two-mile run; Fred Steinhauer, discus; Bob Campbell, pole vault and broad jump; Jack Bostrack, pole vault; Pete Becker, javelin; Clair Grube, Elton Reeg, Brian Stewart and Dick Camp, 880-yard relay. Carrying the baton in the mile relay will be DeYoung, Grube, Don Kumpf and Rodewald.

Loras Cops Title.

Pre-meet predictions ran true to form last Saturday when the Loras Duhawks handily copped the northern divisional title on the Wartburg oval. The Norsemen from Luther carried second while the Knights took third.

Final teams totals were as follows:

Loras	69½
Luther	46¼
Wartburg	35¼
Upper Iowa	10¾
Westmar	10
Buena Vista	1

Paced by speedsters Joe Lahart and Carl Warner, the Loras squad took top honors in eight events and tied for a ninth as they clearly indicated they will be making a strong bid for their fourth straight Iowa conference championship today. The battle for the conference title again looks like a tossup between the two intercity rivals, Loras and Dubuque, winner of the southern half title.

Lahart Wins Twice.

Lahart took the hurdle events, tied for first in the pole vault, finished second in the 100-yard dash and ran on the winning 880-yard relay team while freshman Carl Warner took first in the 100-yard dash, 440-yard run and anchored both the victorious 880- and mile relay quartets.

Winning both the shot put and discus events, Giant Vic Grotkaus scored all of Westmar's points. Versatile Vic set a new conference record in the shot put heaving the 16-pound weight 46' 2½" to shatter his 46' 7/8" mark of last year.

Only undisputed first place for Wartburg was captured by Bob Rodewald in the 880-yard run. Bob established a school record by winning the event in 2:02.6. The conference half-mile record is two minutes flat.

'Rode' Spurts Ahead.

For a lap and three-quarters 'Rode' allowed a couple Loras boys to set the pace but began to put his floating stride into high gear around the last turn to win going away. Rodewald also tied for fourth in the high jump and ran in the mile relay.

Jack Bostrack and Bob Campbell were involved in a four-way tie in the pole vault as they settled at 11 feet with Jordahl of Luther and Lahart of Loras in his personal broad jump duel with Bob Richards of Upper Iowa. Campbell took a back seat, sailing for 20' 5 5/8" compared to Richards' 21' 1½" jump.

John DeYoung, senior recently elected track captain by his teammates, qualified in three events as he placed third in the 100-, 220- and 440-yard runs and ran in the mile relay to top off a busy day.

Off-Campus Wins In I-M Track Meet

With competition amazingly close among the four all-star teams participating, Off-campus squeaked into first place in the annual intramural track meet held Thursday.

Off-campus Gypsies picked up a total of 29 points in finishing on top, narrowly following Off-campus were Grossmann I's Serfs and Grossmann II's Barons with 27 points, as well as Grossmann III's Cavaliers with 25 points.

Off-campus took first in four events, and the three Grossmann entries captured three firsts each.

Bob Lynne, a tenant of Grossmann I, was the meet's top individual scorer with 11 points. Another Serf, Elroy Dietrich, earned a total of eight points without running an inch. Burly Elroy was second in the discus and first in the shot.

Linksters Take Split

Wartburg devotees of the links broke even in two golf meets this week, winning from Coe here Monday, 11½-½, and bowing to Iowa teachers at Cedar Falls Tuesday, 24½-2½.

Grant Kincaid edged his mate, Art Miller, for medalist honors in the Coe meet, 73-77. Showing his ability to play top-notch golf Miller toured the TC course in 74, the lowest score carded by any one of the 12 participants.

BV Blanks Diamond-Men Twice Sat.

By Ted Heinecken

Buena Vista's conference champion baseball team blanked the Knights here twice last Saturday by scores of 5-0 and 12-0. Wartburg batsmen were held to five hits in the first tilt and only three in the nightcap.

In the morning game, John Kurtt gave up four earned runs to absorb his first setback of the season. Meanwhile, the Beaver's ace righthander, Norm Johnson, scattered five singles and struck out 12 men. Only Price, Kittleson and Dubs were able to garner safeties off the big hurler, with Kittleson and Dubs both connecting twice.

Vogt, Swain Blast Kurtt.

Ollie Vogt and Carl Swain were the big guns for Buena Vista. Vogt blasted Kurtt for two doubles, while Swain hit for a double and a triple. The Knights played well in the field, committing only two misplays, and adding two more double plays to the season's total.

Only Wartburg threat came in the seventh inning, when with one out Kittleson singled and Dubs put him on Keysing's sack with his second bingle. Both died on base when Kopitzke flied out and Mueller popped to third. Johnsen allowed only two men to go as far as second base during the entire game.

BV Tallies Twice.

Buena Vista counted twice in the initial frame, once in the eighth and twice in the ninth. Between the first and ninth innings, however, Kurtt subdued the Storm Lake men with only two hits. Big John struck out six and walked none, although the Beavers reached base on being hit by a pitched ball.

Tom Olson started the afternoon game and went two innings before the roof caved in. In the third frame, the Beavers collected four runs on three hits a walk and two errors. Olson weathered the barrage but was derricked in the fifth after hitting one batter and walking the next two.

Krueger Hit Hard.

Don Krueger, freshman chukker making his first appearance, was touched for four runs in the one inning he pitched. Another rookie, Fritz Wix, held the Beaver sluggers in bay for the remaining four innings. The big port-sider allowed only one run on three hits during his tenet on the mound. Olson was tabbed for the loss, his second of the season against one win.

Ed Anderson pitched a masterful whitewash job for Buena Vista, allowing three singles, one a scratch bit by Hank Sowers. Only other Knights to bit were Price and Kittleson. Anderson whiffed three and walked one. Only five Knights reached base safely and one reached third.

Baseballers Slap Norse As Kurtt Wins Fourth

By Gordon Konitzke

Wartburg's baseball team won its sixth game of the season as the Knights downed Luther 6-1 in a game played here last Tuesday.

John Kurtt pitched another great game for the Knights, scattering nine hits, striking out nine and walking one for his fourth win against one setback.

Wartburg batters collected only five hits off the slants of Knutson, Luther chukker, but clubbed them for six big runs. Price and Jacobs had two hits each, Jacobs driving in five on a triple and a single.

Coach Oppermann's charges scored twice in the first inning. Price singled and Dubs reached first on a fielder's choice. Sowers sacrificed them to second and third, and Jacobs' ground single to left plated both runners.

In the third, Wartburg picked up its final four tallies. Price smashed a double to left, and Dubs was again safe on a fielder's choice. Sowers took first when interference was ruled on the catcher. Kittleson walked to force in the first run, and Jacobs' second hit, a booming triple to right, drove in three more Knight counters.

Combining two hits with a pair of Knight errors, Luther spoiled Kurtt's shutout in the fourth by scoring its lone run.

Loras Here Today In Diamond Finale After Knights Succumb To Luther, 3-1

By Chuck Lutz

Loras diamond-men face Wartburg here at 2 p.m. today in the final conference test of the season for the Knights. A win would give Wartburg a 5-5 loop record for the year, and a .714 overall count. Probable Knight starter will be John Kurtt as he looks for his fifth victory against a single loss.

Luther's Weburg threw a two-hitter at Wartburg yesterday as his mates dumped the Knights 3-1, at Decorah. Giving up three walks and whiffing seven, the stingy Norse chucker allowed harmless singles to Fritschel and Price, Wartburg's lone tally coming without the aid of a bit.

Knights Score.

Three successive Luther errors in the fifth inning handed the Knights a run. Fritschel sliding across as the Norse catcher dropped the ball.

Single runs in the first, sixth and eighth were more than enough for Weburg to work on, as his mates slammed Knight chuckers Webrand and Rubenow for eleven singles. Two singles and a hit batsman plated a run in the initial frame for the Norse.

Norse Tally In Sixth.

Winning tally came in the sixth on two more singles and a long fly. Luther added an insurance run on two hits and a stolen base in the eighth. Glesne paced Norse sluggers with three for four, each of his hits figuring in the scoring.

Webrand, Knight starter, took the loss his second against one win. Ed Kittleson, Wartburg shortstop, was injured in the contest and will probably not see action today against Loras.

Tennis Team Flattens Dubuque Netmen, 7-0

Wartburg tennis men romped over Dubuque players last Saturday, shutting them out 7-0. Ristau finished the season unbeaten in singles play while Herder and Siefkes wound up their season's play also undefeated in doubles competition.

The win over Dubuque gave the Knight netmen a record of 6 wins and 2 losses for the season.

This Saturday, two singles entries and one doubles team will travel to Loras, where the conference tournament will be played. Jerry Ristau and Bill Thetch will represent the Knights in the singles division while Bob Herder and Ed Siefkes will enter in the doubles.

Any Wartburg photographer interested in winning up to $3,000 in prizes can take his chance by entering the recently announced $15,000 cash prize photo contest sponsored by Life magazine.

Eligible are all photographers who will not be 31 years old before January 1, 1952.

Subdivided into two separate departments, the contest offers $3,000 top money for the best picture sequence or story and $2,000 for the best individual picture.

Since Life is interested mainly in discovering the best young photographers, not the best pictures, each contestant's entries in each division will be judged simultaneously. Pictures illustrating the work of the three top men in each division will be published in Life.

Deadline for entries has been set at Sept. 15. Full details of the contest will be found in the May 21 issue of Life.

Publications Group Ends Year's Work

Final reports of the three student publications editors were approved, next year's editors' suggestions were okayed and the year's business was drawn to a conclusion at the last meeting of the publications committee last Wednesday afternoon.

Upon the approval of their reports, Claude Greiling, TRUMPET editor; Don Groskreutz, Fortress head; Jack Meister, TRUMPET business manager; and Mel Gleiter, Fortress business manager, each received their publications scholarships.

Approved as chief associate editor for next year's Fortress was Wayne Koetz, junior. Appointments of Jack Meister, junior, as business manager of the TRUMPET, and Ray DeWeerth, junior, as business manager of the TRUMPET were approved at a previous meeting of the committee.

Howard Rands, junior, as prose editor, and Marion Chapman, special student, as poetry editor, were accepted as the two associate editors of Castle Tales.

Supper Tomorrow Planned For Ushers

Invitations to supper tomorrow have been extended to members of the Ushers club by the Wartburg college Artist Series committee.

To be held in the cafeteria at 6:30 p.m., the supper will be an informal affair marking the end of the year's activities.

Election of officers and musical entertainment are on the agenda.

Boebel, Wuest Get High Piano Honors

Betty Boebel and Barbara Wuest, juniors, each received a superior plus rating in the National Piano auditions held at Dubuque last Saturday. Both are students of E. G. Heist.

Miss Boebel's was a one-hour audition for an international certificate, while Barbara Wuest's, for a national certificate, lasted 30 minutes.
